

Institutional Distinctiveness

- The oldest institution of the State known as the light house of Chhattisgarh was established on 16 July 1938 by Professor Janswami Yoganandam.
- Inspired by the freedom movement of India it was started with one programme with a mission to provide higher education to young minds of the State. It has now come out with flying colours as the only co-educational Institution of the State offering 4 UG, 19 PG, 2 diploma programmes and six research centres with supervisors in almost all the subjects.
- Centrally located college of the Capital with diversified faculties of Law, Arts, Science and Commerce under one roof.
- Produced a large number of NET, SET and other State and National level examination-qualified students.
- Most of the Courses offered focus on employability, entrepreneurship and skill development.
- Organized Vocational Training Programmes for empowering students.
- To acquaint the students with the Indian system of governance and parliamentary democracy, the Youth Parliament has been organised in the Institution since 2014 which promotes decision-making ability, leadership quality, critical thinking and understanding of the gravity of political issues among students.
- The institution has well-defined policies on Consultancy, Teaching and Learning, Research and Ethics, IT Policy, Code of Conduct, Management Policy, Policy for Disabled Persons, Anti-ragging Policy, Policy on Sexual Harassment of Women at the Workplace, Environment and Sustainability, The Social Responsibility Policy, The Community Service Policy and Scholarship Policies for SC, ST and OBC Students.
- Social accountability of the institution is confirmed through research in the public interest, Neki ki Diwar 'Wall of Kindness' and extension activities done by various departments along with 1 NSS unit, 2 NCC units (boys and girls), Youth Red Cross Society and Red Ribbon Club.
- The sportsmen of the college have made giant strides in the field of sports. The Department of Sports has indeed succeeded in perpetuating sports culture among the institution's students for whom the infrastructure and expertise are always made effectively available.
- Being an autonomous institution, it conducts examinations and declares results in time to facilitate the students to submit their application for further studies and job.
